

Come on in, stay a while

The Iowa City/Coralville Area Convention and Visitor's Bureau (CVB) put together a wonderful 'stay the weekend' package sure to be fun for all sports fans, not just the Hawkeyes. Not into sports? The area has events for you, too.

Let's Go Hawks!

Extend your stay and enjoy an Iowa Football weekend package. The 2010 Orange Bowl Champion University of Iowa Hawkeyes take on the Ball State Cardinals on Saturday, September 25 at Kinnick Stadium. Discount ticket packages and extended hotel stay information are available through the Iowa City/Coralville Area CVB at (319) 337-6592. Packages will also include a facility tour and the opportunity to meet with University of Iowa sports officials on Friday afternoon.

This one-of-a kind opportunity is only available to Iowa League of Cities conference attendees! Packages are limited and will go quickly. The CVB is ready to help you find entertainment options both before and after the game including popular tailgating locations, restaurants, local attractions and other game day information. For all arrangements, please contact Eric or Nick at (319) 337-6592. The deadline for reservations is Tuesday, August 24.

Something for Everyone

Enjoy the Old Creamery Theatre's production of Hansel and Gretel on Saturday afternoon. Then come back that evening for Church Basement Ladies. Visit us at oldcreamery.com for more information.

The art or history fan can make the short trip to Cedar Rapids to explore the life and works of Grant Wood at the Grant Wood Studio and Visitor Center. Then head over to the Cedar Rapids Museum of Art to see the "From Money to Picasso: The Riley Collection" or the "Art in Roman Life" exhibits.

More information about the events and sites in the area, including tours of the Old Capitol, nature trails, the Children's Museum, shopping, wineries and more, is available on the CVB's Web site, www.iowacitycoralville.org.
